WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

MOUNT VERNON.

The people of Mount Vernon have placed themselves on record many times when relief was needed for any part of this country, and sometimes as in the case of the Zante earthquake, the Irish famine and Russian famine, have sent money and provisions across the ocean. The sufferers from provisions across the ocean. The sufferers from the Charleston earthquake, the yellow-fever epidemics in the South, etc., have been aided by money and clothing contributions. This afternoon a meeting of women is to be held at the home of Captain William Wilson, past commander of Farnsworth Post, G. A. R., in Second-ave, to take steps toward sending relief to the sufferers from the recent storms in the Gulf and along the coast. Special attention will be given to these at Bloxi and the other islands about the Gulf of Mexico. The meeting will be at 2 o'clock.

JERSEY CITY

HE CHARGES CONSPIRACY.
Stephen B. Ransom, counsel for Patrick Henry. esterday made application to Vice-Chancellor Van Fleet for permission to file a bill for the review of a partition sale made by order of the Chancery Court on May 10, 1893. The affidavits filed allege a conspiracy in which it is charged that Henry Lembeck, a wealthy brewer identified with the Eagle Brewing Company, is concerned. The property involved is a four-story tenement in Henderson-st., Jersey City. It was owned by John Kenny, who left it to his widow, Ellen Kenny, she to hold it until she remarried or died, when it was to go to Patrick Kenny, a son, and Margaret Burke, a married daughter. The widow and the Burke, a married daughter. The widow and the heirs joined in an application for a partition, and Chancellor McGli granted the order, but directed that the property must not be sold for less than $8,000. It was sold to Mr. Lembeck for $8.100. Now Patrick Kenny alleges that his mother and sister were induced to consent to the sale by a promise from Mr. Lembeck that if he was allowed to buy the property without opposition he would give them the difference between what he gave for it and $10,000. James T. Eurke, the husband of Kenny's sister, makes affiliavit to that effect, and also further alleges that Lembeck never paid to Mrs. Burke and her mother Mrs. Kenny, the $1.900 due them under the agreement Mr. Lembeck's statement will be heard next week.

Theophilus Butts, receiver for the Palisade Amusement Company, lessees of Eldorado, yesterday asked Chancellor McGill, at Jersey City, for permission to sue the company for the rent of the grounds, the taxes, which were an item in the account, not laving been paid. The matter went over to enable the Chancellor to look into the question of jurisdiction.

Timothy Ahrens, president of the Tammany Association of Bayonne, was held for the Grand Jury in the Third Criminal Court of Jersey City vesterday on a charge of assaulting Charles Merkel, a delegate to the Republican Assembly convention for Bayonne and Greenville. The affray occurred at the Belvidere House, where the convention was held, on Saturday afternoon. Ahrens, after quarrelling with Merkel on political matters, thew a heavy stone match-box at Merkel, cotting a deep gash in his head.

NEWARK.

A FATHER VAINLY TRIES TO SAVE HIS BOY. Walter J. Knight, the lawyer who appeared as counsel in the Buchanan murder case, lost his became exhausted and sank. His father instantly dived for him and brought him to the surface and tried to buoy him up, but the boy struggled and slipped from his grasp, sinking a second time. Unable to save his son, and with strength nearly spent. Mr Knight turned to the shore and succeeded in making it. He slowly made his way to his cottage, where he sank fainting at the feet of his wife, who was completely overcome by the news of her loss. The body was recovered yesterday, and was taken to Newark for burial.

Emma Woods, the accused murderer of Lewis Brown, the proprietor of the notorious "Tammany Brown, the proprietor of the notorious "Tammany Hall," a sporting resort, at No. 321 Warren-st., Newark, was placed on trial yesterday. The crime was committed June 2 in the apartments of the couple, No. 17 Warren-st., where she was living as Brown's mistress. Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the act. Emma Woods's father, who had come from Cinclinnati, was present at the trial. The jury was quickly secured. Patrick Gaynor, John Haley and Edward M. Thompson testified against the woman. Daniel Carriety also testified. The case then went over until to-day.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

A SUIT AGAINST W. N. DYKMAN. THE PRESIDENT OF THE SUSPENDED COM-MERCIAL BANK TO RECOVER TWENTY-FIVE $1.000 BONDS.

Seth L. Keeney, president of the suspended Commercial Bank, has begun a suit against the reson, fourteen years old, by drowning in Lake ceiver, W. N. Dykman, to recover the twenty-five Hopatong Saturday afternoon. Mr. Knight has a $1,000 bonds which the cashier. Mr. Vall, sent to cottage about a mile from the lake, and has lived the Bank of New-York as additional security for there with his family. On Saturday he took his a loan snortly before the suspension. Mr. Keeney son Walter out for a sail on the lake. Opposite alleges that the bonds are his private property and Nolan's Point a gale struck the boat, and it was that they were simply at the bank for safe keepupset and sunk. Both father and son were good ing. The Bank of New-York sold them for less swimmers, but they were heavy clothes and were benumbed by the cold water. They struck out for the shore, which was at some distance, when the boy debt of the Commercial Bank to the Bank of New> preme Court yesterday for an order directing Mr. Dykman to pay the proceeds of the sale of the bonds to Mr. Keeney, and in the case of his refusal. for leave to sue for the amount. The matter was adjourned. The receiver says that he has no information sufficient to enable him to form a belief that Mr. Keeney left the bonds with the bank He had been informed by Mr. Vail that twenty bonds of the Union Elevated Railroad Company were deposited with the Bank of New-York on May 14 as security for a loan, and that on August II, the day before the bank suspended, five other similar bonds were deposited with the Bank of New-York. The other securities held by the Bank of New-York, amounting to Ellisse in discounted bills, had not been left with it by Mr. Vail, but officers of the Bank of New-York had taken them from the Commercial Bank in the evening of August II, without the consent of the officers or the sanction of law. On August II the Bank of New-York sold the twenty-five bonds and other securities and applied the proceeds to the debt of the Commercial Eank. The receiver demanded the return of the bonds and securities, and they were ferfused, the bank saying that they would be held until enough had been collected to pay Mr. Keeney's demand. A second application was dehied on the ground that Mr. Keeney had waived all claim against the Bank of New-York. He had been informed by Mr. Vail that twent demand. A second application was denied on the ground that Mr. Keeney had waived all claim against the Bank of New-York.

> Mr. Dykman says that he examot deliver the bonds, as he hasn't them to deliver, and that it would be improper to pay Mr. Keeney in full, as he is only a general creditor by reason of the boan of the bonds to the bank, and can only be paid pro rata as the other general creditors. Howould like to have the matter settled as speedily as possible.

SIXTEEN HORSES LOST IN THE FLAMES. The livery stable of E. E. Wheeler, South Eighth and Berry sts., was partially destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon and sixteen horses were burned to death. Bemann, who occupy apartments in the four-story tenement-house at No. 207 Ten Eyck-st., has caused to considerable excitement in the neighborhood. Yesterday the house was placed under quarantine and the entire building fumigated. There are eight findilies in the building fumigated. There are eight families in the building, with an average of three children to each family. The youngest child of the Bemann family became ill a week ago, and the parents, instead of sending for a physician, tried to doctor the little one themselves. The child grew worse daily, and on Sunday a physician was called in and found that the child was suffering from smallpox. The doctor at once sent word to the Board of Health, and Dr. Levy was sent yesterday to the house and had the child removed to the Contagious Discase Hospital at Flatbash.

We used to keep English and French underwear; we don't now. Why?

There's better here. Better stuff! No, just as good. Better what? Bet-Our underwear-maker is right here in New-York and if things don't go right we pitch into him. Last Spring things weren't just right; now they are; and, when a man comes along we can't fit we'll tell you.

Our Fall booklet tells how we have shirts and clothes
